Who we are

About Merz Therapeutics

Merz Therapeutics is a leading player in neurology-focused specialty pharma, driven by our commitment to innovation that benefits patients and society.

Our founder, Friedrich Merz, always asked, “What is needed?”. More than 115 years later, Merz Therapeutics continues to apply this mindset to address unmet needs in specialty neurology, hepatology and dermatology.

As a family-owned company with a long-term view of success, we’re guided by purpose and committed to working sustainably to deliver better outcomes for more patients.

What we stand for

With passion and purpose, we deliver better outcomes for more patients. With science as our foundation and the patient experience as our focus, we relentlessly pursue innovative treatments and partnerships to answer unmet patient needs.

In doing so, we base our thinking and actions on these fundamental principles:

Persist in innovation

Innovation is the key to our success, and to our growth. We efficiently identify and relentlessly pursue the clinical and strategic developments that will define our future. Our culture of innovation empowers employees by rewarding risk-taking and encouraging accountability.

Commit to customers and colleagues

We build lasting relationships, between ourselves and our partners, based on trust, respect and integrity. We live by an open, collegial company culture, and actively seek feedback from our partners to make our relationships the best they can be.

Deliver trusted results

We are proud to continue Merz' 115-year-old legacy of high quality and scientifically backed products. We are trusted because our high ethical standards demand we keep all our promises to every partner, customer and patient. Our long-term mindset commits us to delivering profitability and financial sustainability for years to come.

Our history

Innovation is a tradition at Merz. For more than 115 years, we have been developing therapeutic solutions for the unmet needs of patients and healthcare providers. In doing so, we always follow the principle of our founder Friedrich Merz: "Do things differently and better than others." To better meet the needs of patients and reach even more people through responsible growth, Merz Therapeutics has been operating as an independent business unit within the Merz Group since 2020.

Sustainability at Merz Therapeutics

Raising impact for our patients, reducing negative impact on our world

Our mission is to achieve better outcomes for more patients. But human health is directly connected to the health of the world around us. So in addition to our work for patients, Merz Therapeutics also aims to enhance our environmental stewardship. We are committed to preserving the Earth's ecosystems, biodiversity, and natural resources for the benefit of present and future generations.
